TWO BURGLARS CAUGHT.

Two men, alleged to be clever burglars, were arrested by Detectives Peabody, Barnett and Hich late this afternoon. The men said they were J. J. Corbin, twenty-eight years old, of No. 204 East Twenty-second street, and Fred Stein, Bijou Theatre in Jersey City Blown Down—Storm Spreads Havoc Through Newark, Hoboken, Jersey City and Surrounding Towns.

A cyclone swept Jersey City, Newark and Passaic late this afternoon and wrecked many buildings. There were numerous narrow escapes and a score or more of persons were injured.

The Bijou Theatre, on Newark avenue, Jersey City, was partially wrecked. The crash came just as the members of the "Man Who Dared" Company had finished a rehearsal. One man was injured and all had narrow escapes from falling masonry and timbers.

The telegraphic and telephone system was badly wrecked and the rush of water so impaired the railroad travel was interrupted. At Passaic the Erie tracks were washed away and at one time were two feet under water.

At Van Worst Park, Jersey City, 200 trees were blown down.

In the lower section of Hoboken the damage done was general. The Delaware House, at Hudson place and River street, was partially demolished. The large plate-glass windows were blown in and all of the signs, window shutters and doors torn off in a twinkling.

Many roofs were blown off. The rear wall of the Bijou Theatre was almost entirely destroyed, a partition of the roof first having been ripped off by the wind and several churches were badly damaged.

The Bijou Theatre fronts at No. 174 Newark avenue, while the rear is on Bay street. The rear and main portion of the building is a five-story brick structure.

The rear part of the roof was torn away by the wind, and then the rear wall from a point twenty feet above the street to the top of the building fell with a crash.

St. Mary's Church Wrecked.
Another building that sustained heavy damage was St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, at Erie and Second streets. The spire of the church toppled over before a fierce gust of wind and crashed down through the roof knocking a twenty-foot hole in it. The whole roof is loosened and the damage to the structure is estimated at from $25,000 to $30,000.

The roof of St. Matthew's German Lutheran Church on Wayne street, was partly carried away and the rain poured down in torrents into the church. The damage will be heavy.

Whole Row Damaged.
On Newark avenue, opposite the Bijou Theatre, which is on the north side, the roofs of all the houses from Nos. 167 to 185 were partly wrecked. These buildings are three-story frame structures. The first floors are occupied by stores.

Another church damaged is St. Boniface, German Catholic Church, on Bay street, opposite the rear of the Bijou Theatre. The roof of this building was also badly damaged by the wind.

Terrific Force of Wind.
In Jersey City six horses and three wagons were lifted off the ground by the terrific force of the wind. At the foot of Bayona avenue, at the Erie ferry, passengers walked on rafts from the trolley cars to the ferry-house. All streets and hill residential sections are blocked by fallen trees. Seventy trees out of 300 are left standing in Hamilton Park.

DUGRO FOR MAYOR IS CROKER'S CHOICE

One of Richard Croker's most intimate friends who has just returned from England says that Judge P. H. Dugro will be Tammany's next candidate for Mayor.

The news was whispered around Tammany official circles, and created a profound sensation. It was said that Judge Dugro, who arrived on the St. Paul this morning, paid a visit to Mr. Croker at Wantage, where they had a long conference, and many circumstances go to strengthen the belief he is the choice of the Tammany chief.

Croker is known to favor Mayor-ality candidates who have occupied judicial positions, as is evidenced by his selection of Mayor Van Wyck. In addition to this Judge Dugro is his personal friend.

DEPEW LIKES LOW AS CANDIDATE.

Senator Chauncey M. Depew returned from his annual European vacation to-day. He arrived on the American line steamship St. Paul and started at once for Peekskill in the tugboat Chauncey M. Depew.

"Have you a favorite anti-Tammany candidate?" Senator Depew was asked. "No. I have no favorite, but I am glad to hear Senator Platt does not oppose Rich Low. He is a good man." Senator Depew spoke of the growing fear abroad of American incursions into foreign trade. "They want to shut out American products and are really alarmed, but no
